

THE ECHO 1940

BIGGSVILLE TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL

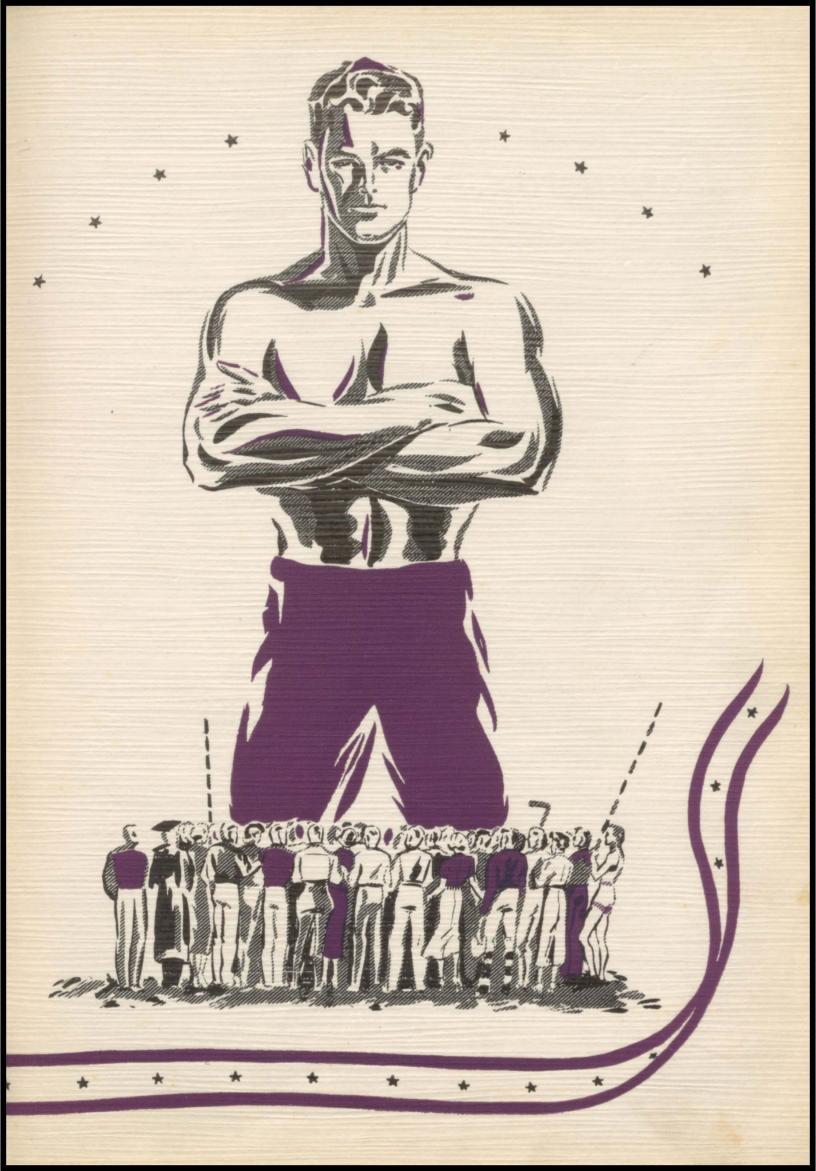

BIGGSVILLE

ILLINOIS

DEDICATION

To Mr. L. B. Delabar, our principal, senior class sponsor, and history teacher, we, the students of Biggsville High School, dedicate the Echo of 1940 as a remembrance of the years he has devoted to our care.

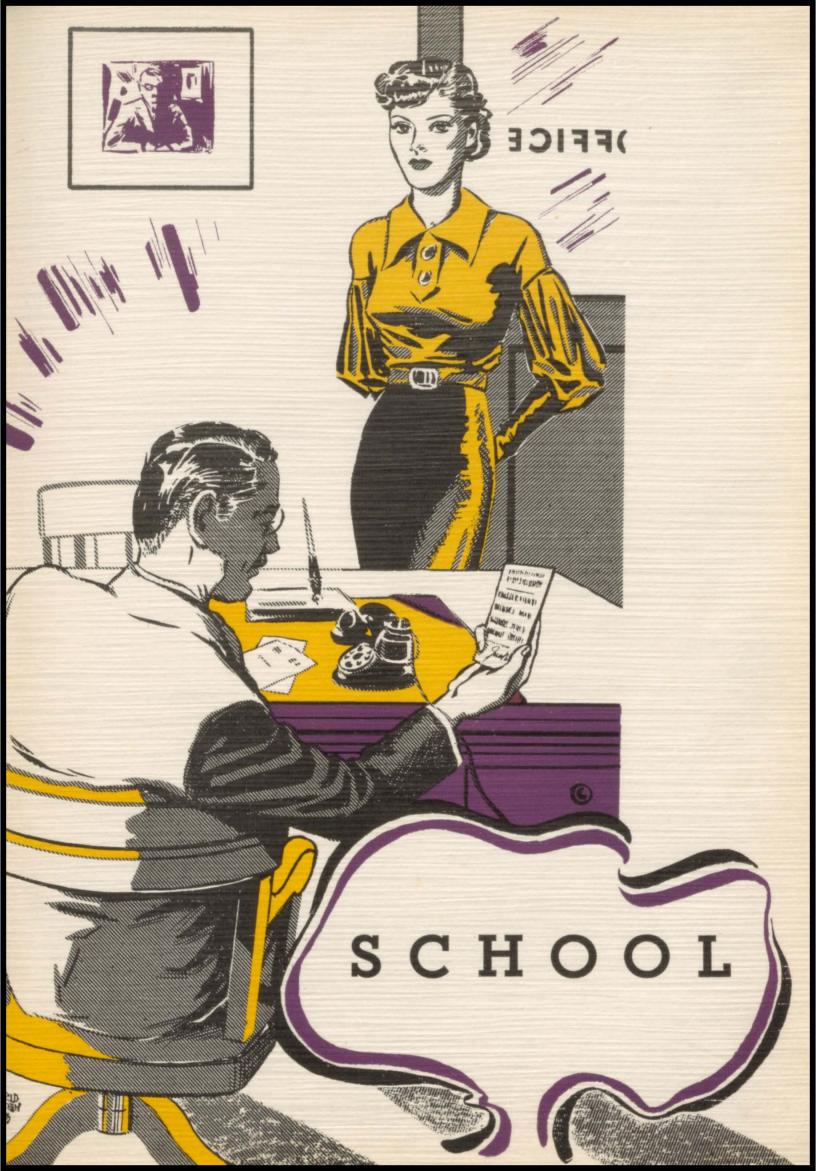

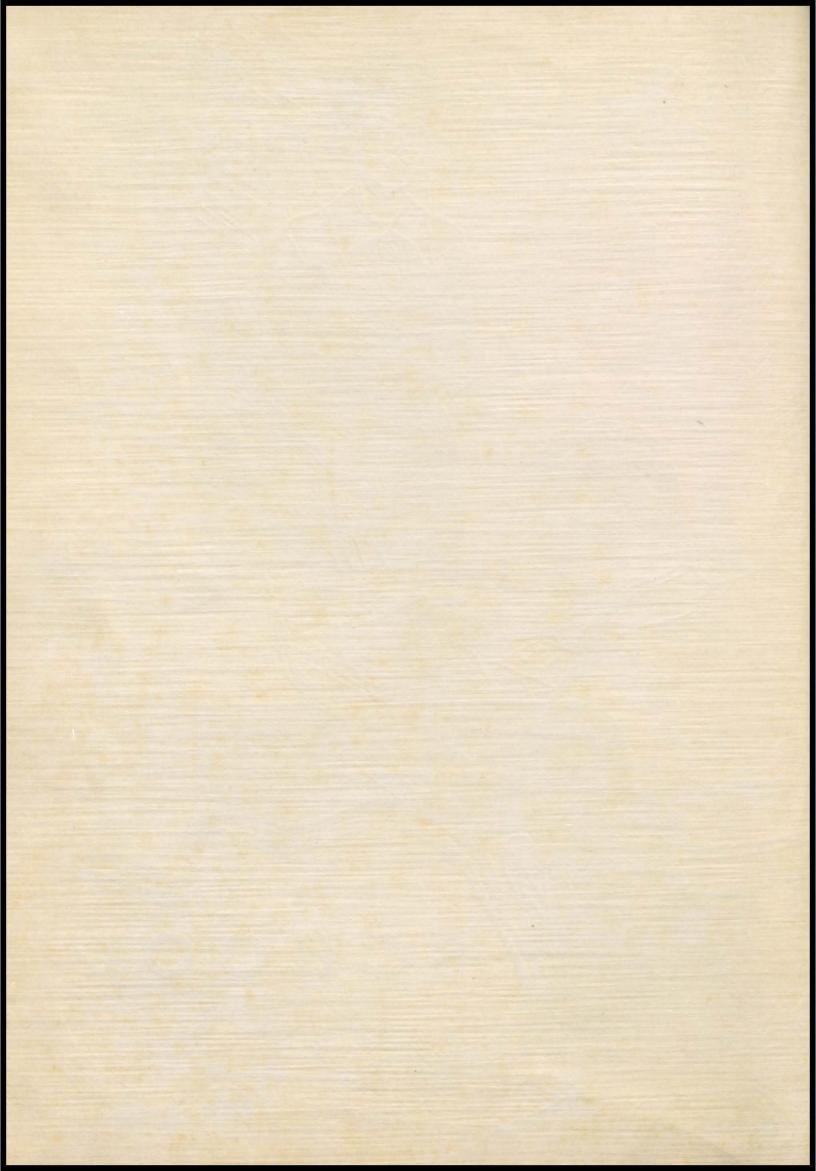

Foreword

In order that the alumni and the parents of the students of Biggsville High School may gain a clearer picture of what goes on behind the doors of our alma mater, we have chosen for the theme of our school annual, The Echo, Modern School Life.

ORDER OF BOOKS

BOOK I – SCHOOL BOOK II – ACTIVITIES BOOK III – ATHLETICS BOOK IV – FEATURES

MODERN SCHOOL LIFE

School life today is far different from that of a hundred years ago. All of us are acquainted with the stories of lizards crawling on the walls of the early schoolroom and of how the schoolmaster made much use of the hickory stick. Long, heavy slabs roughly hewn from great logs, inch wooden legs set at the four corner, were the benches on which the pupils sat. The desks were wide boards laid across wooden pegs which were set in the logs of the wall. Writing was done on long sheets of foolscap paper with pens made of goose quills. Arithmetic, reading, geography, and writing were the main subjects taught. There was no abundance of books, and a pupil generally spent a whole year droning over one, thin reader.

The school room of a generation later showed some improvement. It boasted of a blackboard which covered the entire length of the wall behind the teacher's desk! It was in this school that the Friday afternoon "spell-downs" took place. Debating societies, singing schools, box socials, or spelling matches between rival schools always attracted much attention on a winter evening.

If one should visit a high school of thirty years ago, he would find life much different from nowadays. The entire school, ranging from 74 to 100, was divided into two literary societies—the Zetetic and the Acaddians. Members of one society would compete with members of the other in the writing and delivery of essays, orations, and debates and also in singing of solos, duets, or quartets. Aside from the music teacher, who gave lessons once or twice a week, there were only these teachers on the faculty. If one wished to learn typewriting, he studied it by himself as there was no teacher. At graduation the student would deliver a theme which he had prepared himself.

Today we have a commercial course, besides agricultural and home economics courses. A monthly school paper and a school annual are now published. Any student desiring to do so may take credited chorus, band and orchestra. Clubs unknown to our parents in their schooldays have been organized. More stress is being laid on dramatic and speech training than ever before. The importance of effective speaking is realized when we consider that most of us speak a hundred times more frequently than we write. However, it is not the clubs and organizations which show the rapid stride which education is taking. It is the preparation for a vocation, the training for a better home life, the promotion of physical welfare, the framing of young lives for good citizenship, the developing of character, the spending of leisure time wisely that counts. These are the things that will help a student get ahead in the world.

Yes, America is progressing. I am sure there is no student who would wish to exchange places with his great-grandfather. Victor Hugo expresses well what we mean when he said "My idea is this: ever onward. If God had intended that man should go backward, he would have given him an eye in the back of his head."

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of '36 thirty-one Freshies began their four years of high school life. The following officers were elected:

President
Vice-President	William Glenn
Secretary	George Forgey
Treasurer	Wayne Anderson

Miss Dixson was our supervisor. Freshman initiation took place on October 2. Our class was well represented by the boys in basketball and football.

At the end of the first year, we lost Edwin and Lillian Reyburn, Wayne Long, Margaret Waddell and Frank Carleton.

In the fall of '37, twenty-eight sophomores returned to B.H.S. They came this time with much more confidence. The following class officers were elected for that year:

President	George Forgey
Vice-President	Winifred Gibb
Secretary and Treasurer	Robert Fliege
Student Council	Marty McCormick

Again Miss Dixson was our adviser. The boys represented our class in athletics, and girls showed their sportsmanship by belonging to the Pep Club. Winifred Gibb has been a cheer leader for two years now. Some of our girls belonged to the G.A.A. and to the Latin Club.

We gained four new members in 1937: Mary Frances Moody, Robert Fliege, Roy Green, Doris Shaw and Dale Peterson, but lost Madeline Blake, Robert Dobson and Frances Boecher.

In the fall of '38, twenty-nine juniors entered upon their third year of high-curricular struggle. The following members were elected for our executive committee:

President
Vice-President
Secretary and	reasurer
	Dale Spiedel and Dean Jamison

Miss Browning was our adviser. The main event of the year was the presentation of the play, "Shirt Sleeves."

We admitted to our class body two new members, Virginia Patterson and Dean Jamison.

In the fall of '39 twenty-eight seniors started on their last year of struggle in good old B.H.S. We welcomed two new members to our class: Joyce James and Bob Lewis.

The following officers were chosen:

President	Glenn Verigan
Vice-President	Mary Thomas
Student Council	Wayne Anderson
Secretary and Treasurer	Bill Glenn

Mr. Delabar was our class adviser. On the morning of October 31 we went to Davenport, Iowa, to have our pictures taken.

Of course, everyone is looking forward to the day when he will receive his diploma. The Sky is the limit then!

SENIOR CLASS POEM

Most Senior poems are very sad,

But I prefer to make mine glad. Of course, we hate to say goodbye

As this parting time is drawing nigh.

Instead of laments and flowing tears,

Let's think of the joys of these four years; Let's first remember what we all hated—

The day when we were each initiated!

We were so green our Freshman year, But we soon learned each rule, not so dear. The boys were so timid and wondered how

To get a date, but just look at them now!

Our second year: games, parties, and dances. We even had the beginning of a few romances.

Some proved to be heroes in basketball,

And in their studies they did not fall.

The last two years held many gay days. We had such fun giving our plays.

Our Senior pictures, announcements, and rings: These are some gaieties Commencement brings.

—Martha Jane McCormick.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

The time is 1950.

The scene is the living room of Miss Audrey White's apartment in New York City. She is now a famous interior decorator.

Well, well, here is my old photograph album. My, how I remember the day these pictures were taken. And look at that short dress of Marte McCormick's. She always had such high ambitions, and now she is the wife of the coach at Hopper.

And there's Glenn Verigan. He just won the world's heavyweight championship belt from Joe Louis. Knocked him out the first round, too.

I just received a letter from Mary Thomas the other day, and she said Betty Alecock was now manager of the new Allen store in Monmouth. Well, many of those school romances do turn out that way, and Mary has realized her ambition, too. She became head nurse in the Burlington hospital and just recently married a promising young doctor.

Why, there's Chester White. They say that he is now chief cook and bottle washer at Hollywood Inn; and Wayne Anderson is still in the grocery business at Biggsville, although he now owns his own store.

Here are two well known people, Winnie Gibb and Donald Tinkham, although now their names are Mr. and Mrs. Tinkham. They are joint owners in a tinker toy factory.

Harry Bisher was always wishing that he could be an airplane pilot. He is a test pilot for the United States Navy.

Ralph Glenn's picture now strikes my eye. It seems that I have heard something about Ralph recently. Oh Yes! He has just accepted the position as pastor of the United Presbyterian church in Biggsville.

There's Max Dixon. I imagine everyone has seen his pisture in the movies. He is the proud successor of Lew Lehr.

Roy Green, the person who loved geometry most, has recently won the champion ping-pong trophy of the world.

Here's Joyce James' picture, and just below it is Dale Spiedel's.— They were certainly a chummy couple. I read in the newspaper that they are the new caretakers of the Crystal Lake Club House.

In our senior year we were joined by Robert Lewis. After many years of study, he opened up a barber shop in his home town.

And here is Robert Smith. He was an industrious and intelligent student. Last fall as I was traveling through New Mexico I met Smitty. He is an agriculture instructor at one of New Mexico's colleges.

Why, say, who's that industrious looking young lad. Of course, that's Jimmy Alecock. How could I forget his arguments in American History. I hear that he is now a professor of history at Harvard.

And I believe that's Helen Allen there beside Jimmy. I was certainly surprised to hear that she was teaching in the kindergarten at Oquawka.

And there's Kenneth Carlson. He is now the champion coffee drinker of Rozetta. They say the wedding bells will be ringing for Doris Shaw and him any day now. In the meantime, Doris is teaching physical education at Biggsville, her old alma mater.

Look at that curly hair! I'll always be able to remember Junior Forgey by his hair if in no other way. He is now proprietor of the Curly Inn Beauty Shop at Burlington, Iowa, where his wife, the former Dorothy Ray, is now the head beauty operator.

That small black-haired girl must be Lucille Gibb. She and Mary Frances Moody were always such close friends. Now they have gone their separate ways, though, as Lucille is pianist for the Metropolitan Opera Company and Mary Frances is running a dude ranch in Montana.

Here's another of our curly-headed classmates, Dean Jamison. My, I remember the trouble he used to have with his turkeys, but he must have liked it for now he has a prosperous turkey farm.

Oh, here are two more pictures on this page, Virginia Patterson and Dale Peterson. Virginia is now a housewife in Gulfport, another schoolday romance. Dale Peterson is still on the farm. He raises Spotted Poland Chinas which have been winning blue ribbons at all the fairs.

Well, I guess that's all of the old class of '40. It certainly brings back memories to look back over your old photograph album.

FRESHMAN CLASS

On September 4, 1939, twentyseven new students passed over the threshold of Biggsville High School.

We were duly initiated by the Seniors on September 29, at the gym. This was taken as good fun, and enjoyed by everyone. After the initiation refreshments of doughnuts and cider were served. At our first class meeting we elected the following officers: President......Warren Lee Gibb Treasurer......Homer Renwick

Secretary_____Clarence Barry

Our first social function was to have been a bobsled party. In its stead we had a skating party February 3 which we enjoyed very much.

February 23 we strutted our stuff upon the stage by giving a one-act farce by Jay Tobias, "All Carrs to the Rescue." Through this play several of us have our initial bid in on the new dramatic club, the Scarlet Mask.

We had a bake sale in the spring to pay for our pictures in the Echo. May all freshmen coming in next year have as much fun as we have had this year.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The Biggsville Chapter of the F. F. A. opened its fourth year by electing the following officers: President, Wayne Anderson; Vice-President, Ivan Carlson; Secretary, Junior Forgey; Treasurer, Robert Smith; Reporter, Dean Jamison; Watch Dog, Glenn Verigan; Student Council, Paul Cochran.

A plaque was bought on which the name of the project champion for each year will be engraved. Dean Smith was 1939 champion.

State Farmers' degrees were issued to Junior Forgey and Glenn Dean Rankin and awarded to these boys at Champaign in June.

Money for our annual Parents' and Sons' Banquet, March, 1940, was obtained by selling chances on a Chester White barrow, candy during noon hours and later garden seeds.

Our department ranked first in total prize winnings at the Vocational Ag. Fair held in Alexis. The sectional judging teams placed as follows: Poultry Team, first; Grain Team, second; Fat Stock Team, sixth; and Dairy Team, fourteenth.

Thirty schools participated in all. At the state contest in June the fat stock team rated class A; Dean Smith as high individual judging swine. Other members of the team were Glenn Rankin and Glenn Verigan. The grain team rated A with Edwin Ortery second high individual in judging legumes, the other members being Robert Smith and Jack Schaley. The poultry team rating class B were Junior Forgey and Charles Ricketts. The dairy team rated class C: William McMahon, Chester White and Roy Green.

HOME ECONOMICS

A new department, Home Economics, was added to our school this year. A fine idea, to teach our girls how to cook, sew, buy and plan properly, don't you think?

Our Home Economics Laboratory consists of two rooms. In the large room are three tables which are used for dishes, three sewing machines (two treadle and one electric), three stoves (two electric and one gas), three cabinets, three white enamel tables, a water heater, and an electric refrigerator. In the small room we have our bookcase, a closet, a triple mirror and an ironing board cabinet. Later on we are getting such furnishings as a studio couch, chair, etc.

There were three classes in Home Economics I this year. For the first six weeks all three classes studied "How to Improve Our Personality and Appearance." For the rest of the first semester two of the classes began foods work and the other class clothing work. The last semester there was one class in foods and the other two clothing for a time corresponding to that used for this purpose the first semester. Later the senior class studied home decorating.

The Home Economics girls had charge of the Football Banquet. The gym was decorated very attractively with the school colors. The centerpieces on the table were football fields with players and goal posts. The girls received many compliments on their work, even the boys thought it okay.

On St. Valentine's day the Home Economic's girls had charge of the February Assembly. They served chocolate and vanilla cookies which they had baked.

Now at the end of the year all the girls agree that they have learned a lot and have enjoyed the course very much.

THE PEP CLUB

The Pep Club chose as its officers this year:

President
Vice-President	Lucille Gibb
Secretary and Treasurer	Winifred Gibb
Student Council	Doris Shaw
Adviser	Miss Browning

This year the Pep Club bought new sweaters. They were white with a big red megaphone. As you remember, the old pep sweaters we had last year were red with green devils.

Rebekah Rankin and Winifred Gibb were chosen as our cheer leaders. Our yells were bigger and better, and the cheering section produced more volume than ever, as we cheered our boys on to victory. More members of the Pep Club were present at the games this year than in preceding years.

The purpose of the Pep Club is to stimulate school spirit and to urge the students to attend as many games as possible. Thus it is that the girls of the Pep Club feel they had a great part in encouraging the boys to the extent that they won second in the regional tournament and entered the sectional tournament for the first time in the history of B.H.S.

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association chose the following girls as its leaders for this year:

President	Annabell Rankin
Vice-President
Secretary and Treasurer	Helen Bigger
Student Council	Maxine Carothers

Our adviser for the year was Miss Browning.

This year the girls of the G.A.A. decided to have evening parties once a month at the gymnasium. After the program and business meeting there were games and refreshments.

The Girls' Athletic Association observed Play Day at Dallas, October 8, 1939. As you know, Play Day is a day when ten girls of the G.A.A. from different schools meet and play games.

This year we are entered in the "1940 Telegraphic Basket Shooting Tournament," sponsored by the Illinois League of High School Girls' Athletic Associations which was held on Monday, March 11. The object of the tournament was to shoot a basket from each of the eight spots allowed for throwing baskets, using as few of the twenty-four shots allowed the contestant. Banners were awarded to the three schools having the best scores in each of the ten districts which competed and to the three state winners.

The girls entering this tournament from our school were: Helen Brouse, Katherine Dalton, Jane Cordell, Mildred Peterson, Pearl Admire, Phyllis Stevenson, Winifred Gibb, Bette Miller, Helen Woods, Rosalie Moffitt, and Doris Evans.

ORCHESTRA

Our band and orchestra is composed of both grade and high schools, and we have a large group. The band contains five clarinets: Lucille Gibb, Ethel Mae Melvin, Bette Miller, Paul Cochran, and Dick Henderson. Three trumpets: Jack Schweitzer, David Hill, and Murray Anderson. Two trombones: John Allaman and Betty Woolsey. Two saxophones: Jean Randall, and Frances Moody. Two melaphones: Corrine Summerville and Pearl Admire. Two drums: Marigene Larimer and Arlene Pendarvis. One baritone: Rebekah Rankin. One bass horn: Gene Stotts.

The orchestra consists of the same people as are in the band, with a pianist and five violinists added. Those playing violins are Rosalie Moftitt, Dorothy Boyer, Louise Rhea, Loren Allaman and Charles Allaman. Marte McCormick is the pianist.

The orchestra played at the Junior Class Play, December 18, the following numbers:

"Elves Dance" (from Nutcracker Suite) by Tchaikowsky.

"Plantation Echoes," arranged by De Lanrater.

"Dance of the Comedians," by Smetana.

We also played several numbers at the Magician's show held at the gymnasium and sponsored by the "B" Club. The numbers were "Emperor's Waltz," "Animation Schottiche," and "Dancing Dolls."

The Band played at several home basketball games.

We have new books for both the orchestra and band and we have enjoyed learning to play the new pieces. We meet on Wednesday at 2:45.

Mr. H. A. Loya is our director again this year, and through his good direction we have enjoyed a very profitable year.

CHORUS

Because of so many conflicting activities our chorus was rather small for the first half of this year, but after Christmas a time was arranged when both boys and girls could be out. The girls met on Monday at 3:00, the boys on Thursday, and mixed chorus on Friday.

The girls' chorus sang "Sleepy Hollow Tune" at the Junior Class Play and at the football banquet they sang "God Bless America" and "The Long Day Closes." The mixed chorus sang several numbers at our Christmas party held in the gymnasium, December 22.

In the fall a group from the mixed chorus went to Burlington to hear a concert given by the United States Navy Band.

On May 9 we took part in the Bi-County Music Festival held this year at Alexis. The numbers sang by the mixed chorus were "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones" by A. T. Davison; "God Bless America" by Irving Berlin; "The Hiking Song" by Beatrice and Max Krone; "Go Down Moses" by Wheelwright; and "Lost in the Night" by Christiansen. The girls' selections were: "Robin in the Rain" by Cain, and "You Are Music" by Frank Black. The boys sang "I Dream of Jeannie with the Light Brown Hair" by Foster and "The Winter Song" by Bullard. The Music Festival was directed this year by Thomas William of Knox College, Galesburg.

With Miss Browning as our teacher, all of us feel that we had not only a profitable year, but an interesting and enjoyable one; so to all those boys and girls who did not take chorus work this year, we say, "Wake Up and Sing."

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club was again organized this year with Miss Knowles as our supervisor.

Early in the fall a meeting was held, and the following members were elected:

President.
Vice-President	Bette Miller
Reporter	Martha Jane McCormick
Student Council	Helen Bigger
Secretary and Treasurer	Frances Moody

The first meeting was held down by the swinging bridge. A wiener roast was enjoyed later.

At the Stunt Show this year our club's presentation was voted first. Salve! Biggsville!

The October meeting was held at Bette Miller's with Helen Bigger as assistant hostess. Everyone came masquerading and followed the pumpkins. In November we met at Jean Randall's home; Virginia Patterson. assistant hostess. The theme: "Thanksgiving." The teachers were our guests. In December we met at Winifred Gibb's; Mary Thomas, assistant hostess. Christmas gifts were exchanged. Bad weather prevented a January meeting. In February we met at Ethel Mae Melvin's; Lucille Hogue, assistant hostess. Frances Moody and Lucille Gibb were club hostesses at an early St. Patrick's party, March 8. The April meeting promises to be a sylvan picnic sponsored by Miss Knowles, unless rain drives us indoors.

1939 FOOTBALL

On September 1 the football season opened. Although Rankin and Smith were lost from the team through graduation, the eleven lettermen left had high hopes.

On September 22, after two weeks of hard practice and conditioning, the boys played the Burlington High Second Team. Red Devils won 7-2.

Avon was our first Little Six Conference game, played September 29. Since the field was wet and slippery the game was featured by punting and running. Our boys lost 13-0.

On October 6 the Red Devils played the best game of the season and routed Alexis by a score of 19-12. Long runs and passes by Forgey and Dixon featured the game.

October 12, Roseville won a hard fought battle by a score of 33-0.

Knoxville was played October 20. The Knoxville boys were outplayed from the half on, but they got the breaks and won by a score of 20-6.

The Homecoming game featured Media as our adversary, and was played October 27. The boys held their own, score for score, with the Bulldogs until the last quarter when two players were forced from the game by injuries. Media ran the score to 34-12.

The game the Devils really wanted to win was the one with Aledo, the leaders of the Little Six, on November 11. The Devils took the ball and marched down the field for a touchdown in about eight plays. Then the ball was called back because one of our boys was offside. From then on it was pretty much of a battle. Aledo used her breaks and won 26-0.

BASKETBALL 1939-40

The first game was with Gladstone, December 5, but the seniors were not allowed to participate. Both teams were unorganized and Gladstone finally won 22-18.

The season really started with a game at Little York, December 9. Neither team could hit the basket with any degree of accuracy. Biggsville won with a score of 28-24.

Our third game was with Media, December 12. We played on nearly even terms until the last few minutes when the "Devils" got "hot" and won 26-19.

On December 15, Biggsville played their first home game with Oquawka; and after a hard battle, we came out on top, 33-23.

The next morning, December 16, our team went to Coach Newsom's home town, Goodland, Ind., to play. The people of Goodland gave our boys a great welcome and treated them royally. We did lose the game 33-27, but no one was discouraged.

At Stronghurst, December 19, we lost a tough game 27-20.

On December 22, Alexis won a wild skirmish, 27-22.

During the Christmas holidays, Biggsville played in the annual K. M. B. S. tourney at Kirkwood, December 29-30. The first night our boys beat Stronghurst 24-16, and advanced to the finals to play Media for the championship. We won in an overtime, 21-19.

On January 5, Biggsville had high hopes of beating Roseville, but after a great "feud" we lost 23-19.

Kirkwood came here January 12, Biggsville winning 24-21.

Next Media came here January 16 to revenge the two defeats that we had given them. They were disappointed because our regular team was ill. The score, 40-10, went to Media.

On January 19, bad luck followed us again. This time the coach was sick in bed and Mr. Delabar took over the team. Stronghurst won.

The Bi-County Tournament, January 24-25-26-27, was one of the best ones of the year. Each school has three teams. Our varsity got as far as the semi-finals and were beaten by Roseville in the third overtime by 27-25. The lightweights reached the finals and were defeated by Media. The heavyweights didn't do so well and were lost in the rush.

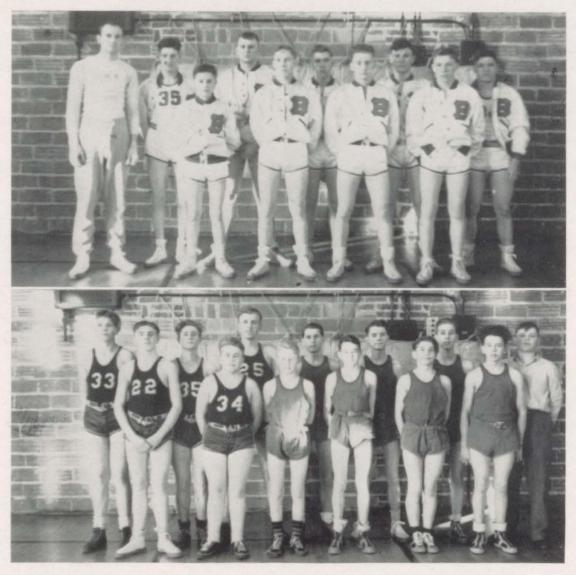

On February 2, we traveled to Oquawka. We won 44-21.

We played Kirkwood on February 9. We won 42-36.

February 10 we played Seaton. We defeated them by a score of 40-26.

February 13, Little York came to town. Biggsville's over-confidence nearly tripped them but we came through 39-27.

We placed fourth in the bicounty 880 and third in the county meet. In the county meet the relay team, Dixon, Forgey, Rankin and Verigan, broke the record.

THE SCARLET MASK

In Walden, Thoreau wrote: "If you will have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be. Now put the foundations under them." Such is the case with our dramatic club. It will take all of a year to lay the foundations for the Scarlet Mask.

We plan for greater self-realization through dramatics. Boys and girls begin to express themselves more effectively once they permit their emotions to express themselves freely. Once they let themselves go, they become more flexible physically and mentally.

School theatricals are yearly assuming greater importance in the curriculum. They are as necessary to character-education as any other subject. School drama, like the textbook, is a short cut to happier living; it should be one of the most pleasant experiences the student has ever enjoyed. A play is hard work but grand fun.

By way of laying cornerstones for the Scarlet Mask, two one-act plays were given February 23: "Educatin' Mary" (Nellie L. Fischer) by the sophomores and "All Carrs to the Rescue" (Jay Tobias) by the freshmen. These plays, hailed as very good, had an appreciative audience in spite of a blizzard that also chose February 23 for its presentation.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

On Friday, March 29, 1940, the seniors presented "The Cuckoo's Nest," a comedy in three acts by H. Stuart Cottman and LeVergne Shaw.

The cast consisted of:

Aunt Fanny Cragwell	Doris Shaw
Phyllis, her niece	Marte McCormick
Barry, her nephew
Faith McLeister, a servant
Douglas Breen, a well-to-do young man	Kenneth Carlson
Jim Bryan, a taxi driver
Noel Harvey, an ecstatic lady
Isadore Klottzwich, a realtor
Minorah Judd, a somewhat faded blonde
George Judd, Minorah's inexorable husband
Colonel J. Edward Pickett, a Shakespearean actor

The Cragwells were from Nashville and had artistic temperaments. They had many troubles when they came to New York. When they couldn't pay their taxi fare they took possession of an empty house, Brinkley Manor. A boarding house was started and they had some very interesting boarders, including Douglas Breen, the real owner of the house. Faith, their servant, wanted her back salary and Jim Bryan wanted his taxi fare. Noel Harvey supplied plenty of laughs; and Mr. and Mrs. Judd knew how to carry on family battles. Isadore Klottzwich and Colonel J. Edward Pickett supplied extra humor. The play was successfully given to an appreciative audience.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

When the junior class gave Robert St. Clair's new mystery comedy, "The Haunted Schoolhouse," Friday evening, December 8, a phantom Creole school teacher appeared and disappeared, a reporter was slugged and bound in a closet, tom-toms beat from the swamp lands, an escaped convict entered the schoolhouse and frightened Connie Tyler and Viola Pritchard, who had arrived to help Spencer Tyler complete his mysterious newspaper article on the voodoo rites practiced in the Louisiana swamps. The excitement became too great for Viola's shattered nerves, and she fainted when the phantom teacher reappeared bathed in a green light. This "thriller" came swiftly to a close when the sheriff committed suicide after his identity was disclosed and his previous plans to steal the Louisiana Purchase gold were discovered.

The locale of the story was somewhere in the Louisiana swamps across from a negro cemetery, near the Gulf of Mexico, not far from New Orleans. The time was the present at nightfall. The scene was laid in a small, old-fashioned, one-room country schoolhouse.

(Poem by H. H. Schweitzer, read by him at the 1939 Football Banquet)

A few rambling tho'ts, set in rhyme,

Concerning the team of thirty-nine:

Worthy aspirants heeding the call

Of Coach Newsom early this fall. Calisthenics brought forth the groans,

As the boys limbered up their bones;

And then, for countless days and days, They drilled on odd formation plays.

At last Coach Newsom picked a team

Of eleven lads chock full of steam, Seven he-men in the front line

And four crafty backs lined up behind, All pepped up and raring to go

Into battle to scalp the foe.

The first game played was easy enough,

But boy, oh boy, was that second game tough! Like a stone wall the foe wouldn't yield:

Scalped you boys on your own ball field; And then Aledo, with no sense or reason,

Added the climax to the season—

Rottenest game we've ever seen.

What they needed was an adding machine. Now your Board does not criticize;

We are highly interested in all you guys. Your School Board is far more concerned

In: Have you profited, have you learned To take a licking, a punch on the chin?

When they mow you down, do you rise and grin? Events like this will confront you later,

Long after you've left your alma mater. This troubled world has a crying need

For sturdy men who can take the lead In calling signals really worth while,

And come out on top, not under the pile. Then your Board will say, bye and bye,

That man played ball at Biggsville High.
