Senior Class Poem

If it happened you were passing by,
 The campus of old Media High,
 On a nice fall day in '55
 You'd have found it swarming like a hive,
 And the chances are you would have seen
 A group of freshman, plenty green
 Waiting, with just a little fear
 To begin a new High School career.

We met our teachers, had hot lunch,
 And soon we were a happy bunch
 Part of High School; oh! what fun
 Our first year was a happy one.
 We studied hard, our time was spent.
 Vacation came; vacation went.
 Eagerly back we came in the fall-
 Billy Sophomores, one and all.

Where, oh! where did that year go?
 It melted away like the winter's snow;

With sports and studies we did our best
 'Til we earned another summer's rest.
 And next as Juniors we appear
 In a very busy, happy year.
 Basketball, football, English and chorus
 Homecoming, banquet all this before us.

Carnival, play practice, home ec; and ag
 History, typing the time did not lag
 But flew on fleet wings
 Like a bird in it's flight,
 And it seemed we were seniors
 Just about over night.

With stars in our eyes,
 And our goal now in sight,
 We all tried our best
 To do everything right.

Band practice, play practice, physics and math
 Chemistry, speech contests we swept from our path
 Dances and parties were part of the fun,
 But now we all know that these school days are done

So we look all around, heave a nostalgic sigh
 And bid sad adieu to old Media
 High.
 For as we go out in the world of today
 We owe her a debt we can never repay.
