Let's go shopping tomorrow.

Is that a face only a mother could love or what?!

ou're right Don — she does look more like you every day.

Lead, Follow, or get out of the way.

Isn't that "SPECIAL"!

Catch me I'm falling.

Raise your hands if you're sure.

Lovin' every minute of it.

HAS GOT A LOT OF STYLE

Jeremy Simmons welcomes Seniors.

Christy Edwards responds to the Junior welcome.

Sherri Malcolm gives the Invocation.

Christy Huss, Linda Venardi, Kim Johnson entertains us with a song.

Mr. Rodefer gave an inspirational speech.

Kathy Brown & Sean Thompson read the Class of 1988 Prophecy.

Angela Nuss closes with a poem.

Oh Gross! Close your mouth Scott.

We made it! Her nail polish finally dried.

Tracy, do you do your own hair?

Being in love is so much fun.

Amy, will you be my date tonight?

Kellie, are we having fun yet?

Did you see that?

Is the meat a little tough?

$2.50 for a glass of tea?!?

Doesn't the salad look fresh, tonight?

Smile! It makes people wonder what you've been up to.

You better play this song, or else!

It's hard to be humble when you're as good-looking as I am.

Scheming again, boys?

This music is INTENSE!

Play it again, Core!

Eeh Gads! Todd and my earrings match.

Whenever I put my best foot forward, somebody steps on it.

A trio of friendship.

Don't laugh! The salad was the best part of the meal!

Try and relax and enjoy the crisis.

No caption necessary!

I don't believe you Christy!

Let's all Hoe-down!

You've got to be kidding, Kathy!

Where's your dates, guys?

This is the greatest prom I have ever been to, of course it is the only prom I have ever been to.

Roy, are you the entertainer this evening?

The flash was pretty bright, huh?

Nice nails G.I. Joe.

Where's Jeremy??

I AM smiling!

Are those real teeth?

You woke me up for this?

Gimme KISS!!

I hate it when this happens.

Everybody needs somebody.

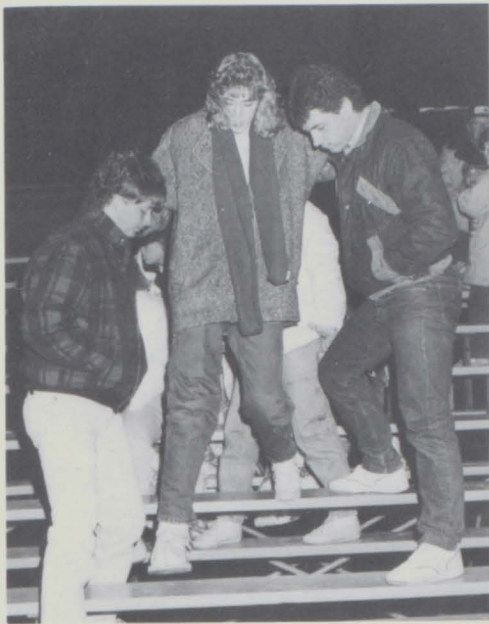

People who can read — SHOULD.

Compute this!!!!

SENIORS IN THE SPOTLIGHT

For Christy, a year she won't forget.

Pampered & Proud of it.

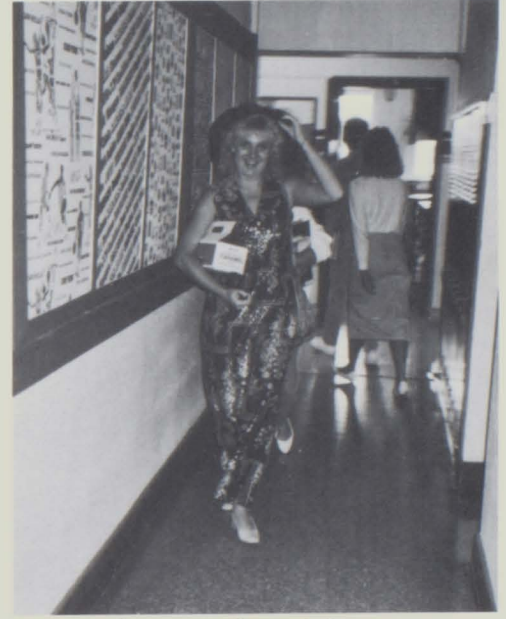

Caught ya!!

Trust me?!

Being an officer is a tough job.

Being a trend setter isn't easy.

Sometimes I don't know if I'm coming or going.

OH YUCK! Where did he sneeze!!

You want me to do what?

1988 SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

The class of 1988 is back together again after twenty challenging years. Many things have changed in that time, yet some things have stayed the same. Believe it or not, our arrangements worked out this year. After twenty years of planning, we finally got reservations on the Julie-N-Dubuque, and they weren't even cancelled this time. Can you believe the Julie-N-Dubuque really exist?

We are well protected here this evening as we have three members of the police force with us. Tony Anders is now a police officer in Monmouth and leads the state in teenage arrests. Brad Ferguson now realizes the importance of a good education and has become a part-time truancy officer. He still likes to have fun, so he bought Crapo Park to cruise through in his spare time. He hired Lonnie Johnson to patrol the park and enforce the curfew law. While they protect locally, Colonel Savage is in Lybia trying to overthrow the government. Good luck, David! Dr. Thompson (don't worry, he's a vet, not an M.D.) is having legal problems himself; he is being sued for malpractice. Somehow Sean delivered puppies out of a cow. Ms. Knupp (who is now a defense lawyer) can't be with us tonight; she is busy working on Dr. Thompson's almost hopeless case.

If you're wondering why our departure is being delayed, we are waiting for Coach Susie Bavery. After playing on the winning Olympic team in 1992, she has successfully coached three Olympic volleyball teams to victory and is now practicing with the team she hopes to win the next Olympics. We have sent Mike Nelson to pick her up since he now holds the national land-speed record and can get her here in a flash. In case you don't know who that masked man is hiding in the corner of the room, it is the infamous Guy Flynn. He bought one Ferrari too many and is now wanted by the mob for illegally selling babies. He's not the only one worried about being caught, Penny Huss and Kellie Stewart are still staying at "each others houses," but now they don't have to worry about their parents catching them, just their husbands.

For entertainment this evening we will have Katrina VanBlair. As we all know, she was found on Star Search and was immediately hired as a Solid Gold Dancer. We have another celebrity in our midst tonight, Amy Peterson has opened her own Hard Rock Cafe in New York and lives the life of a millionaire. Marisa Lightfoot won the Nobel Peace Prize for developing a new kind of x-ray. With the acceptance of the award, Marisa's earnings allowed her to retire at the age of twenty-five.

We all remember Kathy Brown's fingernails, don't we? Well, they have made her famous. She has made it in the Guinness Book of World Records for the longest fingernails; she has broken only one since high school. The twins Leanne and Lorraine Worley have surprised us all. They are the reigning state mud-wrestling champions, and the manager that has brought them to fame is none other than Ernie Waterman.

Kristin Ferguson has unlimited use of hairspray now that she has started her own hairspray factory. Though Kristin and Brad are married, they are having problems and have decided to go to marriage counselor, Ron Martin. Unfortunately for them, since he started the profession the divorce rate has risen to ninety percent. Misty Lyon cannot make it to this reunion because she is STILL grounded after all this time.

Wendy Kennedy married Tracy Ell, and they are now the proud owners of the New Age, the place for fun if you're under twenty-one. We were going to hold the reunion there, but we all got carded. Our class clown, Shawn Fulton, gained fame by going into show business and bringing back the Adam's Family. Is that car still running Shawn? He's not the only Hollywood star from our class! Famous pool shark Dunc is now starring in the Color of Money Part 2. Getting closer to home, Renee Sprock still works at Jack and Jill, though she has been promoted. She now has Georgia Stamp's job. Jennifer Fry, also still in Stronghurst, has been hired as an official paper revisor for Southern's Writing Lab class.

Carl Gentry has opened his own used tire shop, and Jason Severin runs his own auto body repair shop. Christy Duncan, our class president, is now a successful demolition derby driver. After twenty years of attending Western Diana Gibb finally made it to Thompson Hall. Roy (Omah) Day now runs the Ken Nimrick farm and has a variety of trucks with missing parts to choose from. Todd Weterling now resides in Idaho where he manages the Pringles Company.

Our fearless class sponsors, Mrs. Keever and Mrs. Bigger have kept in touch over the years. Mrs. Bigger wrote a best-selling book on the prevention of head lice, and she was accompanied by Veronica Nichols, her dependable photographer. Mrs. Keever couldn't make it tonight because her twelve kids are home sick with ear infection. Well, this is how the class of 88 has spent their last twenty years. We hope you enjoy the cruise!
