In Remembrance Of Anthony Dean Cortelyou

Anthony "Tony" Dean Cortelyou was a great friend to all of us in the senior class of 1989. He was always nice to everyone and he constantly had a smile on his face. He was always laughing about something, and he had that very special ability to be able to look at any situation and find the good in it. He gave his all at whatever he was doing and worked very hard to be a shining example of a Christian. On November 18, 1984, Anthony was killed in a tragic accident. But even though Tony isn't in our class anymore, he is still in our hearts. We will never forget the fun times we shared with him, and we loved him very much.

Seniors

Sr. Class Prophecy "Mr. Clifton's Dream"

Mr. Clifton proudly looks on as the class of '89 enters the gym for their graduation ceremony. As the seniors file in, Mr. Clifton drifts off into his own dream world some ten years ahead in time. As Mr. Clifton waits for the ceremony to begin, he envisions each member of the class of '89 and what he foresees them doing.

First, he imagines taking his family to the carnival and watching Troy White's sideshow act of eating glass. Next, he takes his family to the Notestein's and Seats' Pizzeria where they enjoy an old-time favorite pizza. When they finish lunch, Mr. Clifton's family goes shopping at the local mall. At the mall Mr. Clifton runs into Casey Forrester who works as a security guard protecting against theft. As he walks through the mall, he stops to watch a fashion show featuring our own Scott Sly with the "Open Fashion Look."

After the fashion show, he looks through the toy store where he meets up with salesman Shawn Gibbs who tries to sell him a Tonka toy. After Mr. Clifton leaves the toy store with a whole line of Tonka Toy Trucks, he wanders into the music store. He looks through the rock group album and notices that several of the covers were drawn by Mark Henson. This didn't surprise him knowing of Mark's love for music and art.

Going on through the mall, Mr. Clifton stops into Osco Drug where Brent Kennedy is found selling — you guessed it — lightbulbs. Well, Mr. Clifton decided to get a newspaper and sit down and wait for his family. Scanning the front page, he noticed in huge letters — ANDERSON ARRESTED IN CONSPIRACY. He read the article to discover that Tim had been charged with crimes of conspiracy with a funeral home that had unusually high rates. Mr. Clifton couldn't believe that Tim Anderson could be involved in such an act, but there is was in black and white.

As he turned the page, he read a feature article about Kim Johnson, a flutist model for men's magazines. In the socialite section of the paper he notices the wedding announcement of our own Tammy Rae Boyd and her new husband Jimmy. The back page of the paper featured an article about Cory Melvin who almost started a nuclear war by breaking into the National Computer Code.

As Mr. Clifton was finishing the paper Don Magee walked up and sat down beside him. Don filled in the details of how Cory and Christy Huss got locked into the vault at the Bank of Stronghurst, and this was the code that Cory couldn't (or didn't want to) crack.

Just as Don was leaving, Mr. Clifton heard a loud "Hi" from Pat Schroeder. Pat handed him an Armed Forces recruiting card and gave Mr. Clifton their latest slogan "LIFE — Live It." Mr. Clifton chatted with Pat for a few minutes and then said goodbye.

By now, Mr. Clifton's family was ready to go, and so they headed for their car in the parking lot. As they approached their car, they heard sirens and saw flashing lights. They turned just in time to see Jeremy Simmons' 25th sports car get smashed by just another jerk driving down the wrong side of the road.

On the drive home, the Clifton family passed "Smith's Used Car Lot." Mr. Clifton smiled, knowing that Doug was doing good in the used car business because he always had the "Gift of Gab."

Mr. Clifton and his family finally made it home after a long day in town. He sat down with a cool glass of lemonade and turned on the TV. To his surprise, Cheryl Lefler and Paula Hageman were both on the 6:00 news. Cheryl was being interviewed for breaking the world discus record, throwing over 200 feet. Paula, also being interviewed on the sports program, had just set the new record for the long jump as well as the high jump.

Also in the news that night was Julie Musselman and her horses. Julie's love for track horses caused her to go into horse racing. Unfortunately, because of her own speed on the track, she was racing the horses!

Mr. Clifton turned the channel to watch his favorite show The Sue Boat. He watched it every Tuesday night because he couldn't stand to miss Sue's cruise directing.

The 8:00 o'clock movie that night starred David Beard and Cathy Venardi. It was a mini series about the life of a professional bouncer (David) and his worldly wise girlfriend Cathy. We can't reveal too many details of the film, but soon it got to be late so Mr. Clifton decided to go to bed.

But he didn't sleep well at all, and after tossing and turning for several hours, he got up and turned on late-night sports reruns. Our own Luke Pogue was refereeing professional basketball. This is what it took to put Mr. Clifton into a deep, restful sleep.

He woke up the next morning to a ringing telephone. He answered it and was told by Jackie Simpson that she wouldn't be able to teach that morning. He knew right away that he would have to get a substitute for her history class. Who could he get to substitute for Jackie's class?

No sooner had he gotten to school than he received an angry phone call from Wendy Taylor complaining that some high school student had been window peeping and that she was going to sue the school if he didn't do something about it. Still wondering what to do, the phone rang again, and this time it was a call from the Conservation Department. Steve Fryrear was on the other end of the phone wanting Mr. Clifton's help in starting a campaign to save the songbirds.

Desperately needing some time alone, Mr. Clifton left the office and went for a walk through the halls of Southern High. Mr. Clifton was wandering through the quiet halls when Robby (alias Chester) jumped out from nowhere and screamed "Hi." Robby had gotten a summer job at Southern High, but he had decided that he liked it too much to leave. Mr. Clifton asked if Robby needed something, but all he wanted to know was if he was supposed to take the school van to Smith's in Macomb to get it cleaned. Teresa, who had taken over her dad's business, really did a super job of washing, waxing, and cleaning vehicles.

Finally this long day was over and Mr. Clifton got into his car to go home. He turned on the radio to hear Linda Lee on 97.3. On the way home he remembered that he needed some things from Burlington. He went to Sears where he was helped by Laurie Long. Her job of renting videos had given her lots of experience in ten years, and he was surprised that she even wrote some poetry on the side. Leaving Sears, he stopped by the Air Force office to see how Ellis Vancil was doing. He was glad that Ellis enjoyed his career in the Air Force.

Arriving back home, Mr. Clifton received a phone call from Jessica Manz. She had promised to keep in touch with him, so she was calling to let him know what she was up to. She explained that she was working as Press Secretary for Sherri Malcolm who was running for President. Jessica asked him if he could possibly guess who was the treasurer for Sherri's campaign. Without a moment's hesitation he guessed "Angela Nuss." The three of them had continued their political ways after working well together in high school offices.

Before Jessica said good bye, Mr. Clifton asked her about Rhonda. Jessica filled him in on her life in Australia with her rich husband and how she spent most of her day lying on the beach. He wished Jess good luck and said good bye. As he hung up the phone, he noticed the Belles plaque on the wall and wondered about what Julie Smith was doing, so he decided to call her. He found out that she was working as a counselor in Davenport. She was still trying to help the needy.

Gene Simmons nudged Mr. Clifton, waking him from his graduation night dream. Wondering how much of this would come true, Mr. Clifton rose to address the commencement audience. ... "At this time I present the Class of 1989 ..."

I'm not sure what it is Angela, but it has 3 eyes and 11 legs.

Do you have the power turned on?

Happiness is you for a FRIEND!!

Don't stick me man!!

To the graduating class of 1989,

We are very appreciative to you for wanting us to share in your graduation.

In as much as this is a very special and happy occasion for all of you, it is also a very sad time for us. Graduation is a special milestone for any parents' son or daughter to reach. Unfortunately, our special time of a son graduating from school was taken away.

If we could leave you with just one thing to carry with you into the future, it would be to always remember how a decision not to drink and drive, either by yourself or with a friend, can affect someone else's future.

The special affection that we have for this class will be here tonight even though we may not. If we could, we would come up and personally congratulate each and every one of you, but we are not sure if either of us could emotionally handle this.

Our very sincere best wishes for your future plans.

Mitchell and Karen Cortelyou

Look out world — Here I come.

Oh No!! I forgot to put names on these.

Awards Assembly

The Newspaper Staff receives Awards.

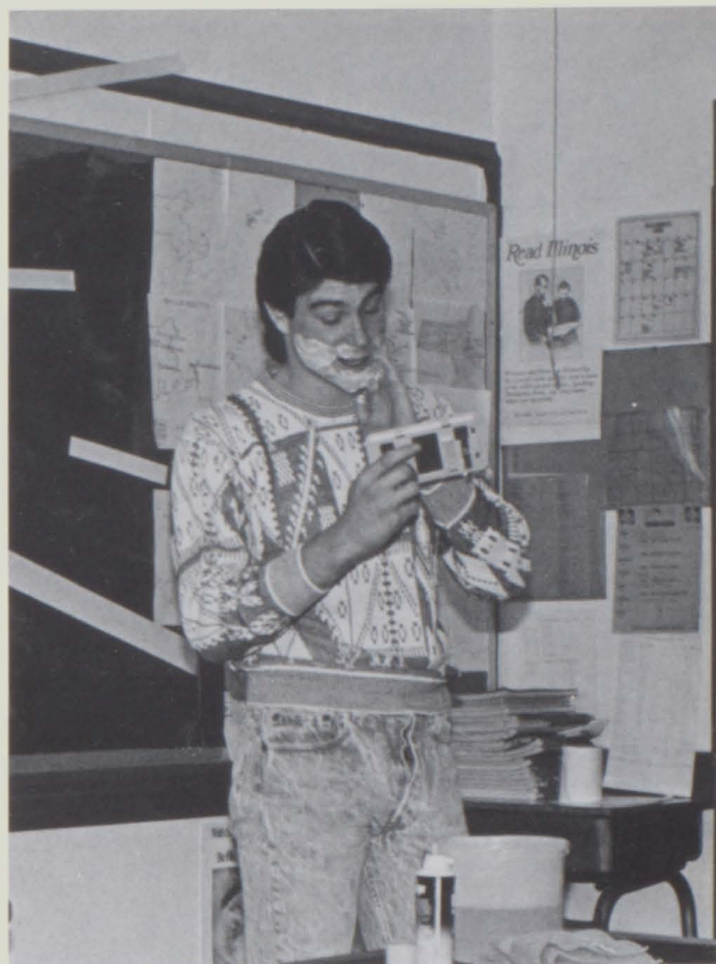

Whose MAMA wears Combat Boots!?

Learning by OSMOSIS again Mike?

GRRRRR . . .

Practice makes perfect.

Going off your diet again?

Ms. Cottrell are you moonlighting again!?

Yearbook DEADLINES do this to me!!!

Oh . . . Do you really think we look alike?

I sure hope my other date doesn't show up?

Our Senior Pom Pon girls talent will be missed next year.

Candid Funnies

What are you laughing at . . . I made this in Home Ec.

All I have to do is snap my fingers and he starts to Dirty Dance just like Patrick Swayze

Writing Lab is — I Say — I Say — such FUN!!
